

The Balanced Dog Ltd Food Therapy Statement of Disclosure

Food therapy is a modality based in Traditional Chinese Medicine. All information shared in a food therapy consultation is meant to facilitate health, balance, and well-being of the dog by focussing primarily on the food ingredients that match the dog's current health condition.

The information provided is not intended to be a replacement for traditional veterinary care, or to provide a medical diagnosis for illness or injury. The information provided in the consultation relies heavily on the owner's responses to questions concerning the dog's physical and mental health. Kathleen Crisley, the food therapy practitioner, is not a veterinarian and cannot diagnose or offer medical advice.

The person requesting the booking certifies that they are the legal owner of the dog and are able to provide information about their dog's condition.

In requesting the booking, the owner certifies that their dog has received regular veterinary care as needed. They acknowledge that they have read and fully understand the contents of this Statement of Disclosure and consent to a food therapy consultation with Kathleen Crisley of The Balanced Dog Ltd.

The owner waives any and all claims they may have against Kathleen Crisley and The Balanced Dog Ltd in accepting or implementing the advice given during the food therapy consultation. If in doubt about any advice proffered, the owner should seek a second opinion.
